

Full 3-Car Train Testing

January 2022 - December 2022

Full-length 3-car train consist testing is proceeding across the alignment throughout 2022, building on the single/coupled-car testing completed in 2021.

This phase validates full-consist performance, platform berthing, and system response under representative in-service train lengths.

Results from this phase feed directly into the integration and revenue-service testing program.
